BULLE ELECTRIC CLOCK

THE first essential of a well run home is a good clock—trains, meals and appointments all depend on its reliability.

"Reliability" is the pass-word of the Bulle clock into every home. Known as "the most wonderful clock in the world," it needs no winding, is up to the minute with its electrically operated movement yet is independent of the mains supply.

Bulle serves its owners faithfully and accurately for nearly three years at a time on a compact little dry battery which is inexpensive and easy to replace.

Bulle is entirely self-contained—thus there are no untidy wires or plugs to be fixed.

The ideal clock for every room of your home or office. Whatever your scheme of decoration, there is a Bulle which will just add the finishing touch.

Every clock holds a written guarantee for 3 years to give you electrical precision without electrical breakdowns.
